

Steve Fuller's Blog

Steve Fuller was born in Northampton on the 3rd November 1983. He started playing the Violin and Piano aged 6, and later took on the Trombone aged 9.

While at school, Steve was a member of many different youth bands including Orchestra's, Concert Bands, Big Bands, and Brass Ensembles. With both School and County bands Steve won numerous outstanding achievements for the National Music for Youth competitions which led to performances at the School Proms.

In 2002, Steve moved to London to study at Trinity Collage of Music under Malcolm Earle Smith and Mark Bassey. Here, Steve was involved with the Bobby Lamb Big Band, and other leading UK jazz musicians such as Steve Waterman, Russell Van den Burg, Mark Lockheart and many more.

Steve has been a member and performed with the well known funk band called the 'James Taylor Quartet', Dennis Rollins, Wynton Marsalis and the Lincoln Centre Jazz Orchestra.

Other artistes Steve has worked with include: Jools Holland and the Rhythm and Blues orchestra, The Specials, Mr Hudson and the Libraries, Mark Ronson, Terri Walker, IDMC Gospel Choir, and more.

Steve has just finished a 2 year world tour with Pop Artist Lily Allen.
